

Amazon.com: a new package testing project standard released through ISTA:

ISTA recently released its new ISTA 6-Amazon.com standard - Packaged Products for Amazon.com Distribution System Shipment. This new standard is used for simulating Amazon's shipping environment. It is for packages weighing more than 70 lbs and it includes four packaged products types. Micom is offering test services for that new standard.

For more information about this new standard: <http://www.micomlab.com/micom-test-categories/ista-testing/>